The Price of Liberty is Eternal Vigilance

Est. 1919

April 2022

Dear Members,

Welcome to the first newsletter of 2022. Thank you to Stephen Thornton for firstly all his work as our secretary from 2020 to 2022, secondly for all his work in facilitating a highly successful 2022 ANZAC Day Dawn Service, and thirdly for publishing our DON R newsletter.

Thanks for such a warm welcome to our Sub Branch and the role of Secretary. The guidance from Mike Muirhead, Stephen Thornton and Vince Atley has been exceptional and the warm feedback from members has been greatly appreciated. Peter and the Board have some great ideas for 2022 and we look forward to outlining these in future editions of DON R.

Thank you to all the members who have volunteered for tasks leading up to ANZAC Day. We have many requests from Schools, Sporting Clubs and Associations for assistance and it is terrific when we can match requests with enthusiastic Sub Branch members.

A few members have asked me about my background. I joined the ADF in 1986 as an Army cadet at the newly opened Australian Defence Force Academy. I had the honour of being in the Royal Guard for the opening of Parliament House by Her Majesty Queen in 1988. I started off in the Army for my first three years and then transferred to the Air Force as a Logistics Officer, serving until 1999.

Please note the new secretary email address is secretary@toowong.rslqld.net.au and I look forward to any insights and requests from our members.

Tim Robb, Secretary

President's Report

After two years of Covid-19 interruption, we finally got to hold our usual ANZAC Day commemoration service which commenced at 5am.

Peter Gow

We had a very good attendance despite the showery weather.

We were well supported by Cr. Peter Matic and the Paddington Ward staff as well as Cr. James Mackay of the Walter Taylor Ward, Queensland University Regiment (QUR) and Wests Rugby Union Club who do a lot of work for us on the day and also put on a hot breakfast which was very well received. Thanks to Graham Brown.

The band and the opera singer were excellent as was the piper from Brisbane Boys' College.

The activities conducted by the sub-branch since the previous newsletter in December are:

- * 17 January - held board meeting.
- * 21 February - held board meeting.
- * 20 March – held board meeting
- * 20 March – held AGM. Presented Sam Harrison MBE RFD ED with his 30-year RSL service certificate.
- * Various dates – held Anzac Day planning meetings in person and via Microsoft Teams
- * 19 – 23 April - Anzac Day fundraising at Toowong Village.
- * 25 April - held Anzac Day service.

I also thank John Forrest RFD for his service to the sub-branch over the years. He has been a valued member of the board. John has stepped down from the board and pursuant to Section 28.1 of the constitution, the board members will look to appoint another sub-branch service or life member to fill the vacancy for the balance of the term.

Please note that the board usually meets on the third Monday of each month at 4pm and sub-branch members may attend as observers although prior notice is appreciated.

Toowong RSL represented at University of Queensland AFL game

The sub-branch was approached by the UQ AFL Club to provide a small Anzac commemoration service at the game at St Lucia on Saturday 23rd April.

We are indebted to Brian Venz who attended on behalf of the sub-branch along with the assistance of Brian Clarke from the Toowong Symphonic Band. Brian provided a 5-minute recognition service which was conducted as follows:

1. Introduction by Ben Larsen-Smith VP of UQ Red Lions AFC
2. Address and Ode by Lt Col Brian Venz RFD
3. Last Post played by Brian Clarke of Toowong Symphonic Band
4. 30 seconds silence and The Rouse.

For the men's game, Brian gave a short description of Coast Watcher - Pilot Office Leigh Vial who was based at Salmaua in New Guinea.

For the women's game a few hours later, he provided a short description of the only female Coast Watcher Ruby Boye who was located at Vanikoro in the Santa Cruz Islands in WW2.

ANZAC Day Service

Our 'full-service' Anzac Day commemoration at the cenotaph on the hill in Toowong Memorial Park service was back after two years of Covid-19 interruption.

The service commenced at 5am and was very well attended given the showery weather with numbers estimated at around 1500 people.

There are many people, groups and organisations to thank which are included on the Order of Service attached to this newsletter. The Anzac Day address was delivered by Lt. Col. Gabrielle Raffin, CO QUR which was excellent.

SPEECH BY LT.COL. RAFFIN

Good Morning Mr Peter Gow, President of the Toowong RSL Sub Branch, Honoured guests, and the community members gathered here today. I also acknowledge especially those veterans, serving members, former and present who are with us today.

Before I begin, I would like to acknowledge the traditional owners of the land on which we commemorate our ANZACs today – the Turrbul people – and pay my respects to elders past, present and emerging.

It is a privilege to be here this morning to remember the ANZACs and indeed all those who have served, with the members of the community in which I now serve. I, like many who before me and alongside me, am intrinsically motivated to serve by my connection to the Australian people and the values moulded by our collective experience; the challenges we've faced together and the tenacity we continue to show in the face of adversity – values forged on the sands of Gallipoli, and perpetuated in the jungles of Papua New Guinea and Vietnam and many other places since. It was this connection, this connection to their people, their country, that saw thousands of Australians and New Zealanders volunteer to go and fight when The Great War broke out in 1914. To them, the knowledge that they were helping to keep their beloved homelands and their loved ones safe and free, was worth making the ultimate sacrifice.

The community of Toowong has come together on this very site now for a century to remember and be grateful. When the Toowong Soldiers Memorial was unveiled in 1922, the Mayor of Toowong, Charles Patterson, spoke about the men whose names are inscribed here, saying "they had marked the trail which lead to victory, and from victory to peace, and from peace to liberty." Charles and Barbara Patterson had five sons who served in the First World War. Of their five sons, only one did not come home – 19 year old Private Alexander Patterson. As the Mayor gave his speech that day, we can only imagine the turmoil of emotions that must have been within, from devastating grief to immense pride, knowing that his own son's name was etched here in memoriam.

Each of the names on this memorial, and on every memorial like it, has a story behind it. Gunner Herbert Horstmann, killed in action in France, 1918 at 21 years old – he was a Clerk and lived around the corner on Norwood St with his Dad, William. SGT William Trix worked in despatches – his father, George, lived on Annerley St. He died in France in 1916 at 31 years of age. Private Harold Spink, a Farmer who lived on High St, was also killed in France in 1916. He was 19. And the list goes on. Each of these names represents a family with a story – a family with an indelible connection to service made fast by their sacrifice. It is important that we remember the hardship suffered by those who remain at home, back then and still today. As young nurse Vera Deakin wrote to her parents in 1916 from her posting in Cairo one year after Gallipoli:

"Today is the anniversary of the heroic Landing, the day which plunged half the world into admiration and awe, and half our Continent into sorrow & mourning."

We gather here now, before dawn, in remembrance of the ANZACs who also gathered pre- dawn – waiting silently in their boats off the shores of Gallipoli – the gentle lapping of the water in their ears and the scent of the salty air in their nostrils and on their faces. They could not have known that their actions in the days and weeks that followed would be remembered still, more than one hundred years later by a grateful nation, nor that the qualities they showed would be emulated and aspired to by those in service today as the model, the very fibre, of what it means to wear a uniform of the Australian Defence Force.

Though the ANZAC legend was born at Gallipoli, it has lived on through the men and women who served in many wars, conflicts and peacekeeping operations – and are still serving today. In many ways, war is different now. The enemy doesn't always wear a uniform, it can be hard to know who you are fighting, and the weapons they use are more sophisticated and difficult to defend against. The one thing that is still the same though, is the courage and resilience of our Australian soldiers. They fight on in the face of impossible odds, they keep going when they have nothing left, and they care for each other fiercely, and with everything they have – both in combat and at home.

For the young people here today, your presence is so important. Your generation will carry on the ANZAC tradition after us, and make sure it continues well into the future. Young people can be inspired by the ANZACs too. Learn about some of the stories of our brave soldiers - from Gallipoli, to the Pacific, Korea, Vietnam right through to Afghanistan and Iraq. You can be courageous like them, and not give up when things get difficult. It's ok to make mistakes, as long as you learn from it and keep trying. Your victory will mean so much more if you have to fail in order to win it....And above all, look after each other.

Today, we also think of the Defence Force members currently serving. Some will be away from their loved ones today, carrying on the proud tradition and honouring the ANZACs in whatever way they can. We honour those veterans who returned home from their operation forever changed by their experience, some physically, many with invisible scars that may never fully heal. You have my gratitude, and the gratitude of your country for your personal sacrifice.

Memorials like this one are scattered all over the globe. To me, they represent a promise – a promise that we, as a nation, will forever remember their sacrifice and be grateful for the values and spirit they've given us – the ANZAC spirit -, which we now hold dear. They are a symbol of our community and the connection each of us has to our country and to each other.

Private Patterson, the Mayor's son, who's name is written on this memorial, was posthumously awarded the Military Medal for bravery with the 15th Battalion at Pozieres. His recommendation reads:

"He acted as Company Runner and ran messages day and night to Battalion Headquarters and to platoon commanders. He delivered every message quickly, and his Company Commander had the utmost confidence that a message would reach its destination when entrusted to him. He was particularly reliable under the heaviest fire and stood out conspicuously during the advance on 8th/9th August."

In a letter to his mother, enclosed with his medal, he is described as a soldier "whose magnificent conduct on the field of battle has helped to earn for our Australian soldiers a fame which will endure as long as memory lasts." The task now falls to us, as a community, as a nation, together, to keep our promise and ensure this memory lives on.

Lest We Forget.

George Vaivarins has been discharged from Greenslopes Hospital. He still has a way to go in his recovery and is resting at home. Board members are keeping in contact with George to ensure his needs are being met.

Remember - if you are doing it tough and require assistance, or just need a friendly ear, please get in contact with us as we are not always aware of members' situations.

Membership

We currently have 93 service members and 24 non-service (social) members being a total of 117 members being a decrease of five service members and one social member.

New service members since the December newsletter are Tim Robb (now secretary) and Gary Bennedick. Jenny Balkin was recognised with a volunteer nametag in recognition of her work for the sub-branch.

Last Post

We unfortunately lost two members in the last three months.

Evan Wham passed away after a long illness. Evan was a significant financial donor to the sub-branch but also a friend to some and he will be sadly missed. Evan had an interesting background which you can read in the attached article.

One of our oldest members, John Horsey, also passed on in April. John was 97.

A reminder that the sub-branch will conduct a poppy service for any person who has served in the Australian Defence Force. They do not have to have been a member of the RSL. They are free of charge.

As part of a Poppy Service, an RSL representative will:

- deliver a eulogy, detailing the veteran's service
- recite The Ode
- sound The Last Post and Rouse
- provide poppies for mourners to place on the coffin in recognition of service.

Unfortunately, we are often advised of the passing of a member by family some time after the funeral so please make your family aware of the poppy service if it is something you would like to be part of your service.

ANZAC DAY DAWN SERVICE

Monday, 25 April 2022 at 4.30am for 5.00am

Toowong Memorial Park, Sylvan Road, Toowong.

Commencement (05:00 am)

(ANF & NZF at Half-mast)

Introduction

Mr Peter Gow, Toowong RSL Sub-Branch President

Mounting of the Catafalque Party

(All Stand)

Invocation

Mr Peter Gow
(Please be seated)

The First World War ended nearly 104 years ago. The fighting finally stopped when an armistice between the Allied powers and Germany Government came into effect at 11 o'clock on the morning of 11 November 1918. Millions of people had lost their lives during this war, among them more than 60,000 Australian service personnel – about one in five of those who served overseas. Many thousands more were wounded in body and in mind.

During the war and after its end, survivors returned home to a country both grateful for their service and traumatised by the war's enormous cost. The dead lay in cemeteries and unmarked graves around the world, including New Britain in the south-west Pacific, Mesopotamia, Gallipoli, the Sinai, Palestine, and the United Kingdom. But nowhere on earth do Australia's war dead lie in greater numbers than in the soil of the Western Front in France and Belgium. The announcement that the fighting was over on this front, and the war was finally over, was met with joyful celebrations around Australia. But joy was neither universal nor unqualified. Too many had died, too many more wounded or made ill by their war service. Everywhere communities knew the pain of losing fondly remembered men. Across the country, memorials were erected to honour those who served and those who died.

Today we meet at the Toowong Soldiers Memorial, that was officially dedicated by the then Governor of Queensland Sir Matthew Nathan. On this memorial are listed the names of 101 men, from the Toowong District, who had enlisted to serve in the Australian Imperial Forces in WW1 and failed to return to their families. We remember too, all Australians killed in military operations since that time.

Opening Prayer

Chaplain Michael Folland

Lord God, today we honor those who in the great tragedy of war gave their lives in the cause of peace. Today we remember each man, woman and child who has fallen so that the light of freedom, justice and humanity may continue to shine. As we remember them, we ask Lord God that we and our successors may prove worthy of their sacrifice. Amen

ANZAC Requiem

Chaplain Michael Folland

On this day above all days we recall those who served in war and who did not return to receive the grateful thanks of their nation.

We remember those who still sleep where they were left - amid the holly scrub in the valleys and on the ridges of Gallipoli - on the rocky and terraced hills of Palestine - and in the cemeteries of France.

We remember those who lie in the ground beneath the shimmering haze of the Libyan Desert - at Bardia, Derna, Tobruk - and amid the mountain passes and olive groves of Greece and Crete, and the rugged snowcapped hills of Lebanon and Syria.

We remember those who lie buried in the rank jungles of Malaya and Burma - in New Guinea - and in the distant isles of the Pacific.

We remember those who lie in unknown resting places in almost every land, and those gallant souls whose grave is the unending sea. We remember those who were prisoners of war, remote from their homeland.

We think of those of our women's services who gave their lives in our own and foreign lands and at sea, and of those who proved to be, in much more than name, the sisters of our fighting men.

We recall, too the staunch friendships created as countries fought beside each other on the first ANZAC Day. Especially those from New Zealand and Australia who helped to create the name of ANZAC.

We think of every man and woman who in those crucial hours died so that the lights of freedom and humanity might continue to shine. We think of those gallant men who died in Korea, Malaya, Borneo and in Vietnam, assisting to defend the Commonwealth, and other countries of the Free World, against a common enemy.

And now in this modern age we think of those who paid the price of other's freedom in Asia, Africa, The Middle East and Europe.

May their sacrifice bring liberty to many and peace to all. May these all rest proudly in the knowledge of their achievement, and may we and our successors in that heritage prove worthy of their sacrifice.

ALL We will remember them

Reading Luke 6: 43-45

Dr. Lily Zhu

A good tree cannot produce bad fruit, and a bad tree cannot produce good fruit. You can tell what a tree is like by the fruit it produces. You cannot pick figs or grapes from thornbushes. Good people do good things because of the good in their hearts. Bad people do bad things because of the evil in their hearts. Your words show what is in your heart.

The Soldier's Prayer

OCDT Matthew Potts

Almighty God, whose command is over all, and whose love never fails, let us be aware of Your presence, and obedient to Your will. Help us to accept our share of responsibility with a strong heart and cheerful mind. Make us considerate of those with whom we live and work, and faithful to the duties our country has entrusted to us. Let our uniform remind us daily of the tradition of the Force in which we serve. When we are inclined to doubt, strengthen our faith. When we are tempted to sin, help us to resist. When we fail, give us the courage to try again. Guide us with the light of Your truth and keep before us the life and example of Jesus in whose name we pray.

Amen

Nearer My God to Thee

Meg Kiddle

ALL

Nearer, my God to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!
E'en though it be a cross
That raiseth me;
Still all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!

What though the shadows fall,
Naught shall I fear
When darkest seems the night,
Morning is near,
Sweet shall my trusting be,
Sorrow still bringing me
Nearer, my God, to Thee
Nearer to Thee.

ANZAC Day Address

Lieutenant Colonel Gabrielle Raffin (CO QUR)

Prayer of Remembrance

OCDT Ruby McInnes

Lord God, as the sun rises this day, as it did on the first ANZAC Day, we remember the sacrifice of the first ANZACs, and the generations of men, women and children who have since died in the cause of liberty and peace. We remember those who still bear the physical and mental scars and disabilities of their service. We remember the widows and widowers, friends, parents and orphans, sisters and brothers and all who waited in vain for the return of a loved one. While we remember the mateship, agony, courage and compassion of war service; save us from ever glorifying the horror and tragedy of war. Lord, as the sun rises on this day, we remember with thanksgiving and pride, all those who served Australia in war. We offer our prayers of remembrance and thanksgiving in Jesus' name.

Amen

Chaplain: Lord, we bring all of our prayers to you today – both the spoken ones and those within our hearts and together we say the prayer taught by Jesus.

ALL Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
As we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation,
But deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever.
Amen
